

WILLIAM G. M'ADOO RESIGNS

CABINET MEMBER GIVES UP OFFICES TO RETURN TO PRIVATE BUSINESS

SECRETARY OF TREASURY SAYS COMPENSATION ALLOWED IS INADEQUATE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, director-general of railroads and often discussed as one of the presidential possibilities of 1920, has resigned his offices to return to private business.

President Wilson has accepted his resignation. Mr. McAdoo will give up the treasury portfolio as soon as a successor has been selected. He wished to lay down his work as director-general of railroads by January 1, but will remain if the president has not then chosen a successor.

Upon the new secretary of the treasury will devolve the task of financing the nation thru the transition period of war to peace, which probably will include at least two more liberty loans and possibly also a further revision of the system of war taxation.

Letters between President Wilson and Mr. McAdoo made public today with the announcement of the resignation, give Mr. McAdoo's reasons for leaving the cabinet as a necessity for replenishing his personal fortune and express the president's deep regret at losing his son-in-law from his official family.

The following letters were made public with the announcement:

McAdoo's Letter to President Wilson
Mr. McAdoo's letter of resignation, dated Nov. 14, follows:

"Dear Mr. President:
"Now that an armistice has been signed and peace is assured, I feel at liberty to advise you of my desire to return, as soon as possible, to private life.

"I have been conscious for some time of the necessity for this step, but, of course, I could not consider it while the country was at war.

"For almost six years I have worked incessantly under the pressure of great responsibilities. Their exactness have drawn heavily on my strength. The inadequate compensation allowed by law to cabinet officers (as you know I receive no compensation as director general of railroads) and the very burdensome cost of living in Washington have so depleted my personal resources that I am obliged to reckon with the facts of the situation.

"I do not wish to convey the impression that there is any actual impairment of my health, because such is not the fact. As a result of long overwork I need a reasonable period of genuine rest to replenish my energy. But more than this, I must, for the sake of my family, get back to private life, to retrieve my personal fortune.

"I cannot secure the required rest nor the opportunity to look after my long neglected private affairs unless I am relieved of my present responsibilities.

"I am anxious to have my retirement effected with the least possible inconvenience to yourself and to the public service, but it would, I think, be wise to accept my resignation now, as secretary of the treasury, to become effective upon the appointment and qualification of my successor so that he may have the opportunity and advantage of participating promptly in the formulation of the policies that should govern the future work of the treasury. I would suggest my resignation as director general of railroads become effective January 1, 1919, or upon the appointment of my successor.

"I hope you will understand, my Dear Mr. President that I will permit nothing but the most imperative demands to force my withdrawal from public life. Always I shall cherish as the greatest honor of my career the opportunity you have so generously given me to serve the country under your leadership in these epochal times.

"Affectionately yours,
"W. G. McADOO.

President's Letter of Acceptance
The president's letter of acceptance, dated Nov. 21, follows:

"My dear Mr. Secretary:
"I was not unprepared for your letter of the 14th because you had more than once, of course, discussed with me the circumstances which have long made it a serious personal sacrifice for you to remain in office. I knew only your high and exacting sense of duty had kept you here until the immediate tasks of the war should be over. But I am none the less distressed. I shall not allow our intimate personal relations to deprive me of the pleasure of saying that in my judgment the country has never had an abler, a more resourceful and yet prudent, a more uniformly efficient secretary of the treasury; and I say this remembering all the able, devoted and distinguished men who preceded you. I have kept your letter a number of days, in order to suggest, if I could, some other solution of your difficulty than the one you have now felt obliged to resort to. But I have not been able to think of any. I cannot ask you to make further sacrifices, serious as the loss of the government will be in your retirement. I am accepting your resignation therefore to take effect upon the ap-

LONDON, Nov. 22.—David R. Francis, United States ambassador to Russia, is in the American Naval Base Hospital in Scotland, where he will rest for several days before coming to London to be operated on. The ambassador's condition is not critical.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 22.—A resolution calling on congress to adopt the Lenox-Kenyon bill—the anti-child labor bill pending in the senate—to replace the one declared unconstitutional by the federal supreme court, was adopted by the National League of Compulsory Education at its national convention here today.

A. J. Laderle of Detroit, Michigan, was elected secretary.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Augie Kleckhefer, world's champion three cushion billiardist, successfully defended his title tonight when he defeated Robert Cannell, former champion, in their three night match 150 to 106 in 147 innings. Kleckhefer now has defended the title successfully five times since he won the championship last February.

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 22.—The American Federation of Labor is doing all in its power to secure a trial for Thomas J. Mooney, according to President Samuel Gompers of that organization who arrived at noon today on his return trip to Washington from the Mexican border. He declined to discuss the movement for a general strike.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 22.—For a period of two days, the dates to be announced later all stores selling food in Arkansas City, Ark., will be closed except that of Joe Kong, a Chinese. It was announced today by H. Williams, state food administrator. All except Kong have been convicted of profiteering. The stores to be closed include those of the mayor and the county food administrator. Arkansas City has a population of about five hundred.

SHIPBUILDING NEARLY BACK TO NORMAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The shipping board now is imposing such restrictions on shipbuilding and making such cancellations of contracts as will bring the shipbuilding industry back to a normal basis, Charles Piez, vice-president of the emergency fleet corporation announced today in reply to Senator Harding's resolution calling for a statement of the shipbuilding program.

Mr. Piez said the board early in September decided on a change in its program which would bring about a considerable reduction in expenditures. The board's aim, now he said, is to produce ships with regard to economy in construction rather than speed in delivery.

Senator Harding's resolution called for a statement concerning the number of ships built and Mr. Piez announced a full report in answer to his resolution is being prepared and soon will be submitted to the senate.

GENERAL CASTELNAU ENTERS COLMAR

Paris, Nov. 22.—General Castelnau today entered Colmar, Alsace, at the head of his troops. He was received with enthusiastic acclamation by the populace.

Twenty More Hun Subs Taken Over By Allies

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(British Wireless Service.)—Twenty more German submarines were surrendered to Admiral Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt off Harwich today. This makes a total of 59 submarines thus far handed over. There would have been twenty one surrendered today, but one sank during the night.

The correspondent of the Wireless Service with the British naval forces says just before noon a cruiser came into sight, followed by the German submarines and a German transport. The transfer took place in the harbor on account of the heavy sea running. The majority of the submarines were large and heavy all were fitted with wireless equipment.

Revolutionary Element

When the Germans arrived it was noticeable the revolutionary element was decidedly present. Some of the officers had removed the Prussian eagles from their caps and replaced them with a sort of red badge that recognizes the authority of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Council.

There seemed to be little discipline among the men as they took little notice of anything the officers said to them. One shouted: "No officer—no kaiser."

Some of the Germans were anxious to air such English as they possessed, while others suppressed their accomplishments in that direction with equal care. One German officer who was inclined to be communicative, attached himself to the correspondent and said he worked in London before the war. He added:

"I had an intuition, as many of us had that we should be wanted in the summer of 1914, so I went back to Germany a month or two before the war was declared. I was not in the submarine service at first but volunteered for it and had a fair share of luck. You British say it was not fair fighting, but we Germans believe the end justifies the means. Then you complain that we shoot your men while they are in the water. Why not? The men might be saved to fight us another day. We should be fools to let them."

The crew of one submarine, with the exception of an officer, were all intoxicated.

FORMER EMPEROR AND SON CLOSELY GUARDED

LONDON, Nov. 22.—From a special investigation in Western Germany the correspondent of the Daily Mail at The Hague has ascertained there is considerable hostility against the former emperor and his eldest son. The correspondent says after William Hohenzollern entered Holland a thousand German soldiers arrived at the frontier and demanded they be allowed to pursue and kill him. They were turned back by the Dutch frontier guards.

The correspondent does not believe that the former emperor could reach Berlin in safety no matter what guarantees might be given. The former crown prince is universally hated also and is greatly despised. His life in Germany, the correspondent declares, would not be worth an hour's purchase. He is under the closest guard in Holland, owing to fears of an attack.

Much publicity is being given to Eitel Friedrich and August Wilhelm respectively, the second and fourth sons of the former emperor and the correspondent's impression is that the loyalists hope is that thru them dynastic sympathies can be maintained.

PLAN SHAKE-UP IN ARGENTINE CABINET

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 22.—It was stated today that President Irigoyen's cabinet met in private session yesterday with the leaders of the radical party to discuss plans for the reconstitution of the cabinet. The meeting was exceedingly lively. Several of the ministers are said to be on the verge of resigning.

Thus far the efforts to reform the cabinet have not been anti-Irigoyen but have been designed to preserve the prestige of Argentina by radically changing the country's future policy.

Internal politics is the sole topic of conversation in the street, having even overshadowed the European war talk.

FORMER STATE LEGISLATOR DEAD

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 22.—Edward B. Sumner, member of the state legislature from 1880 to 1888, was found dead in his bed at his home here today. He had been failing in health for several months.

Mr. Sumner in former years was prominent in Republican state politics. He was one of Winnebago county's wealthiest residents.

SURRENDER OF MIGHTY GERMAN FLEET DESCRIBED

Program of Submission Strictly Carried Out

EDINBURGH, Thursday, Nov. 21.—By the Associated Press.—Germany as a naval power ceased to exist today. The heart of her mighty fleet—fourteen ships of line, seven light cruisers and fifty destroyers—surrendered to an armada of British, American and French vessels, the greatest fighting force that ever stood out to sea.

The minutely detailed program of submission laid down by the commander of the British fleet was carried out strictly according to plan. The German warships, strung out in a single column almost twenty miles long, appeared at the rendezvous at the appointed time and were led into the Firth of Forth between twin columns of allied ships which overlapped the Germans at each end. Tonight the enemy craft are anchored in the Firth, under guard as prisoners.

Surrender Has No Precedent

A surrender on such a gigantic scale has no precedent in naval history. Although the wonderful naval spectacle was the same as a peace time review and evoked little enthusiasm, the haze blotting out the horizon, American and British officers could scarcely credit the evidence of their eyes. It was an event which shattered all naval traditions and ideals.

Mr. animated by the spirit of Lawrence's "Don't give up the ship," and Nelson's "England expects every man to do his duty" could not conceive of such an inglorious fate as that to which the enemy sea force was submitting.

The Associated Press correspondent, standing on the deck of an American dreadnaught heard an officer exclaim: "Even the poor old Spaniards, knowing they had not a chance came out of Santiago."

Officers and Men Silent

But for the most part, both officers and men were silent. They realized they were witnessing the climactic act of Germany's downfall. They knew that the surrender of these vessels automatically raised the United States to second position among the world's naval powers, but they showed no elation and seemed to feel a sort of pity for the enemy.

The German ships were sighted by the allied columns at 9:20 o'clock directly following their British pilot, the light cruiser Cardiff, who were silent destroyers and other smaller craft, had ranged ahead of the allied fleet. The enemy studiously complied with Admiral Beatty's orders and it was well for their own sakes that they did. Every vessel steaming out to meet them flew battle ensigns and was ready for instant action with its men at battle stations and guns in position for the prompt annihilation of the enemy's forces if their mission proved to be other than peaceful.

Americans Ready for Action

Five American battleships, the New York, Texas, Arkansas, Wyoming, and Florida were prepared to fire every gun in 40 seconds after the signal was given by Rear Admiral Hugh Rodman, who said to the correspondent before sailing: "There is not the slightest probability of any trouble but we are overlooking no chances against making the wind-up of this show a big success."

The main allied fleet extending over a line fourteen miles long in the Firth of Forth began to weigh anchor at one o'clock this morning. The Scotch mist which for days had obscured the harbor was swept away by a stiff breeze, and the moon shone brilliantly. The ships quickly took their stations in the long double line they held throughout the day. British battle cruisers led the way, followed by the Queen Elizabeth, led the squadron in the northern column. The American warships fell into two columns, a signal squadron similar in power in the opposite file.

The rendezvous was approximately 50 miles distant and the ships gauged their speed to arrive at the appointed place at eight o'clock. At five o'clock a signal summoned the men into battle stations. Except for the officers on the bridges, the ships' companies were hidden behind the bulwarks of steel. When dawn broke, the sea was again covered with mist, which reduced the visibility to less than 8,000 yards.

Director of Air Service, John D. Ryan, Resigns

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Resignation of John D. Ryan, second assistant secretary of war and director of air service and of William C. Potter, his chief assistant, was announced today by Secretary Baker. Both Mr. Ryan and Mr. Potter desire to return to their private business as quickly as possible, but Mr. Baker said they had consented to remain until the rush of aircraft demobilization is over and later to give the department the benefit of their experience whenever necessary.

After the retirement of Mr. Ryan and Mr. Potter the offices they now hold will not be filled immediately if at all. It appears unnecessary to officials now that a new director should be named in Mr. Ryan's place. There is no longer a production problem to be handled as the war is over and operation is naturally a military function. It was said that pending reorganization of the army and the war department on a peace basis, recommendations for which will be laid before congress next month by Secretary Baker it is not possible to arrange for the permanent aircraft establishment of the army.

Mr. Ryan, who was president of the Anaconda Copper company was called upon by President Wilson to take charge of aircraft production last May after charges of delay and inefficiency in the program had been aired in the senate. Mr. Ryan resigned his private connections to become chairman of the aircraft board and director of production.

Three months later he was made assistant secretary of war and director of air service.

DISMISS PROCEEDINGS AGAINST LA FOLLETTE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The senate privileges and elections committee today voted 9 to 2 to dismiss proceedings brought against Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, for an alleged disloyal speech at St. Paul more than a year ago.

The majority recommendation together with a minority report will be presented to the senate when it reconvenes Dec. 2 with possibility of a contest on adoption of the majority report.

Four Democratic and two Republican committeemen voted to sustain a motion filed by Senator La Follette's attorney for dismissal of the proceedings which were instituted by the Minnesota Public Safety Commission.

Chairman Pomerene and Senator Walsh, of Montana, Democrats, voted in opposition and the chairman said he would offer a minority report. Senator Billingham of Vermont, a Republican, will present the majority report to the senate.

Altho today's committee action which followed many meetings during the last year was taken technically on the dismissal motion, detailed statements on the facts, evidence and legal points involved are expected to be given in the majority and minority reports.

Some committee members said today that no matter how much Senator La Follette's speech might be deplored there was no basis for his expulsion.

STATE HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS MEET TODAY

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 22.—The High School Teachers' association of the state is holding its 14th annual session at the University of Illinois today and tomorrow. About 1,000 instructors are present. The feature of the day was the launching of the boys' working reserve campaign for 1919. Experts claimed that there will be a greater need for boys on the farm the coming year than during the year just ending.

8,000 OFFICERS TO BE RELEASED

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Nov. 22.—Officers at the Great Lakes Naval Training station today estimated that between 5,000 and 8,000 men will be released from the station as the result of Secretary Daniels' order to accept requests for release from active service. There will be no sudden rush to private life, however, as it will take several weeks to act on the applications. Men released will be those who have needy dependents or have business of their own which they left to enter the service.

W. C. T. U. STATE CONVENTION CLOSES

AMPER, Ill., Nov. 22.—The W. C. T. U. convention, state convention closed its sessions here today with the re-election of its old officers. East St. Louis was awarded next year's gathering.

CHARGE PROSECUTION IN SAN FRANCISCO COURTS WITH CROOKEDNESS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Revelations of alleged crookedness in the prosecution of many cases, criminal and civil, in San Francisco courts including a charge that attempts were made to manufacture evidence against Mrs. Rena Mooney, were contained in a report made public today.

The report, dated Nov. 1, as printed bore the signature of John B. Densmore, director of employment and was addressed to William B. Wilson, secretary of labor at Washington. Mr. Densmore would not deny he made the report but intimated that it must come thru official sources at Washington. Densmore was sent to San Francisco some time ago by Secretary Wilson to investigate certain governmental affairs.

Long stenographic reports of all alleged conversations, obtained by automatic recording devices dealt with alleged acts tending to involve a former justice of the California court, a member of the public prosecutor's office and a number of persons who have figured in cases of national interest, including the famous San Francisco graft cases. In one instance there is mentioned payment of $410,000 with allegations that this amount was passed.

Mrs. Mooney, the object of the alleged attempt to manufacture certain evidence is the wife of Thomas J. Mooney awaiting sentence of death for murder in connection with the preparedness day bomb explosion here July 22, 1916. She was indicted with her husband and three others upon ten counts of murder, covering the ten deaths from the explosion. She was acquitted on one count, four counts were dismissed and she now is on bail awaiting disposition of the other charges.

Summarizing the published findings today the report said practically the whole case against Mooney, Billings and Mrs. Mooney was made to "order". The conclusion, the report states was reached thru direct evidence that seemed sufficient and also by the alleged facts adduced in the investigation tending to show corruption. The report alleges certain things "render it incredible that he (naming an official) should be either impartial or honest in the conduct of a case of this nature; that he is and has been for some time past co-operating with notorious jury and case fixers."

Refuses to Comment On Case

Washington, Nov. 22.—Secretary of Labor Wilson refused tonight to state whether or not a report on the Mooney case had been made to him by Director-General John B. Densmore, of the labor department's employment service. At Mr. Densmore's office it was said a report believed to have related to the Mooney case had been transmitted to Mr. Wilson several days ago.

Committee Cuts Half Billion From New Revenue Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Reductions aggregating $500,000,000 in the yield from the new revenue bill were made today by the senate finance committee in revising the measure downward to the six billion dollar total for 1919 proposed by Secretary McAdoo. The decrease was confined principally to the tobacco, luxury, semi-luxury and other special and excise schedules.

Among the more important decisions today were elimination of the luxury schedule proposed in the house bill, levying twenty percent on costly articles of clothing and other merchandise and estimated to raise $184,795,000 elimination of the house tax of two cents gallon gasoline estimated yield $10,000,000 reduction from 10 to 5 per cent on about $200,000,000 in revenue in rates on many articles classed as semi-luxuries and a reduction of about one half in the house rates on tobacco, a cut of about $54,000,000 in revenue.

Oppose 1920 Legislation
Republican members still vigorously oppose legislation for 1920 and the committee decided to pass that question temporarily. Tomorrow it will resume revision of the miscellaneous taxes with a view to cutting off another $500,000,000 necessary to reduce the whole to six billion dollars.

In cutting the excise of semi-luxury schedules today, the committee reduced from 10 to 5 percent the house rates on the following articles:

Piano players, photographs, photographic films, candy, portable electric fans, thermos bottles, slot machines, toilet soaps and powders.

NEW STYLE STRAW HATS

Washington, Nov. 22.—New styles in men's straw hats, barred by conservation restrictions of the war industries board will be permissible next season. The board today announced an order rescinding the restrictions, which would have limited styles in such hats for 1919 to a few standard shapes.

HENRY FORD TO START NEWSPAPER

DETROIT, Nov. 22.—Henry Ford today announced his retirement from active participation in the management of the Ford Motor Co., complete control of the Ford interests in the company to be taken over by his son Edsel.

In making this announcement today Mr. Ford said he intended to undertake the publication of a national weekly newspaper, dividing his time between the publication and tractor industry.

MUNITIONS TRAINS EXPLODE; 2,000 KILLED

LONDON, Nov. 22.—An explosion of munitions trains in Belgium Thursday caused casualties estimated to be between 1,500 and 2,000. One hundred and fifty dead already have been counted, according to a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam. The injured are being taken to Budel, Holland.

WILL SPEAK AT PEACE MEETINGS

Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, have accepted invitations to speak at a series of ten conventions to be held by state branches of the league to enforce peace from Nov. 30 to Dec. 12, according to an announcement tonight by the league. The purpose of the conventions is to stimulate favorable sentiment for a league of nations.

A YEAR FOR THANKSGIVING.

People of Pittsfield have made extensive plans for a community Thanksgiving service. It is unfortunate that conditions will not permit such a plan here, for it is eminently appropriate this year, since President Wilson's proclamation has officially suggested that Thanksgiving day
this year commemorate the closing of the war. In Pittsfield, a committee including the "War Mothers" is arranging for the service which will be in religious and devotional vein. Judge Harry Higbee will preside.

SENATOR SPENCER
IS WELL POISED.

Senator Seiden P. Spencer, of Missouri, is a man of parts for the day that he was confirmed in office yet showed no sign of nervousness. Then there is further proof of the statement because the new senator on that self-same day told a group of suffrage workers without any equivocation that he is heartily in favor of the federal suffrage amendment and will undoubtedly vote for it.

Senator Spencer's record as a citizen and jurist in Missouri entirely justifies the prediction that his state will be ably represented by its junior senator during the years that he is in Washington.
Senator Spencer is the second Republican senator from Missouri in the past fifty-four years, so that his coming to Washington might be said to mark a political epoch.

MR. EMMERSON AS AN OPTIMIST.

Secretary of State Emmerson is an optimist about the after-war period, for he has ordered 400,000 automobile license plates for next year. This number is larger by 11,000 than the number thus far in use in Illinois
this year and the secretary evidently has confidence in the number of cars increasing in 1919. Probably Mr. Emmerson is not only counting on prosperous business conditions, but is also expecting the good roads proposition to encourage the use of automobiles in this state. The good roads program will certainly stimulate interest in trucks, for hard roads will make possible the establishment of numerous freight truck lines, especially in the territory contiguous to the larger cities.

FORD AS A NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER

Henry Ford, it is said, has decided to retire from active management of the Ford Motor Co., and following the example of Senator La Follette and William J.
Bryan, will publish a weekly national newspaper. If Mr. Ford writes about national industry instead of politics he will speak with some authority and have a worth while publication. As a captain of industry he ranks at the very top, but as a statesman or even a politician—well, that is another matter.

GETTING RID OF THE FLU.

The local influenza situation seems to be improving and recent days have shown few cases outside of homes where the disease has already had some inroads.
It was Major Woltman who wrote back home recently that fear or panic has a good deal to do with the "flu" and that reads like a very sound theory. The more people talk about the "flu" and the more they fear it, the more likely they are to contract it. No matter what one's ideas about the "realness" of disease there is something to the theory that a person who is constantly worrying about it and fearful of the contagion is in a very receptive physical mood and is apt to catch the "germ."

A few months ago nearly all people who were sick and those who had died had typhoid fever, according to popular belief, and nowadays with few exceptions
those who are sick have the "flu" or pneumonia. Anyhow, it is cheerful to record that the conditions are improving.

RED CROSS WORK
MUST CONTINUE.

There is a very strong appeal voiced in the statement of Elliott Wadsworth, acting chairman of the executive committee of the Red Cross army of mercy which has been called into being must never be demobilized. Certainly there must not be any slowing down of interest in Red Cross work and the conditions in Europe are such that it will be a long time until they have been permanently relieved. People certainly cannot imagine that the signing of the armistice will immediately put an end to suffering and desolation in territory where war has been raging and ravaging for a four year period. It is not too much to say that millions of people today need Red Cross aid and there is abundant work for this great humanitarian organization to do.

SEC. McADOO
TO RETIRE.

It is not often that the resignation of a cabinet member comes with such suddenness as that of W. G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury and director general of railroads. In this instance there has been no forecast of the resignation and no rumors from Washington that any cabinet change
was contemplated.
If there had been such rumors
very few indeed would have imagined that they pertained to the president's son-in-law, so frequently referred to as the crown prince of the administration. If there are any underlying reasons
for the resignation at this time
they are effectively covered up
in the correspondence between the president and the secretary.
Made public last night. These communications seem to indicate
the most friendly relationships
and that the resignation has not
been caused by any personal breach. The president writes in the intimate that he might be expected to in addressing his son-
in-law, and leaves nothing unsaid
in the matter of commendation.

Much in McAdoo's course as secretary of the treasury has been commended and he has also brought upon himself and the administration a great deal of criticism, partially because of a somewhat despotic and arbitrary way of handling the financial affairs of the country. His appointment as director general of the railroads brought violent protest because it was realized that with the onerous duties he already had, that he could not possibly give much of personal attention to the direction of the railroad systems of the country. Furthermore his experience had not been in that line. It looked like an effort to give "son-in-law" too much prominence.
At any rate "the crown prince"
has abdicated, and summed up, his statement says that financial reasons have influenced his action and that he must return to private life in order to devote himself to business and money getting.

The resignation has upset the theories of those who were quite certain that the president's son-in-law was being groomed as a Democratic nominee for the presidency. Many of these political theorists have believed that his appointment to the directorship of the railroads was for the purpose of extensive advertising.

Then there may be another theory—that the resignation has come now to further Mr. McAdoo's political interests, for it might be easier to step toward political preference from private life than it would be from a government post.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

When peace has come, that boon elating, and battle flags are furled, I hope there'll be an end of hating throughout the resignation and no rumors from Washington that any cabinet change
was contemplated.
If there had been such rumors
very few indeed would have imagined that they pertained to the
president's son-in-law, so frequently referred to as the crown
prince of the administration. If
there are any underlying reasons
for the resignation at this time
they are effectively covered up
in the correspondence between the
president and the secretary.
Made public last night. These
communications seem to indicate
the most friendly relationships
and that the resignation has not
been caused by any personal
breach. The president writes in
the intimate that he might be expected to in addressing his son-
in-law, and leaves nothing unsaid
in the matter of commendation.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to let his patients suffer from the effects of calomel. He has found that these little olive-purged tablets are the most pleasant and safe way to keep the bowels in good condition.

TROUBLES OF A TRAVELER

A Jacksonville man who does a good deal of traveling is not an admirer of railroad management under government control.

He mentioned one large city with five railroads passing thru it where the union ticket office has but one clerk at a time on duty.

He said sometimes as many as forty people are in line waiting to buy tickets. As a result traveling men purchase mileage books, which have some convenience but are also expensive.

The reason is that by use of mileage books conductors always tear out local fare and refuse thru rate.

In this connection Secretary McAdoo, who has just resigned as director general of the railroads, has come in for a lot of criticism.

Delegations of business men who have sought to interview him in Washington on various alleged grievances have declared that he was very cavalier in manner and unresponsive in conduct.

One of the delegations after being somewhat imperiously dismissed from the McAdoo offices, went to interview Col. Goethals and their reception was very much in contrast.

He went to a great deal of trouble also in efforts to bring about those things for which they were asking. The traveler mentioned also complains of the arbitrary dining car rates established whereby all a la carte service is abolished.

FUNERALS

The funeral of the late Charles Price was conducted at the family residence on East State street yesterday morning in the presence of a goodly number of sympathetic friends whose numbers would have been greatly augmented under ordinary circumstances. Rev. M. L. Pondus had charge and said in brief:

"We are gathered today to honor the memory of our departed friend, Charles Price. All have known him myself for some time but not as long as the rest of you. He was one of the oldest business men of the city, few having been here as long in the mercantile ranks as he. To the relatives and friends I bring a message as contained in the last part of the last verse of Matthew. 'Lo, I am with you always even unto the end of the world.'"

The Master passed thru the vicissitudes of life. He suffered Gethsemane, Golgotha, the cross and finally triumphed grandly over death and now returns to comfort His followers. He gave the last great commission and added, the promise to be with His disciples always. We are too apt to lose the last part of that command. It is a challenge to the Christian's faith when the dark angel enters the door and summons away one of the loved ones to the realms beyond.

The Christian can emerge from this trial with faith triumphant sure of the final and tory home up by the Master's words. He promised to be with us to the end of our lives so we took forward to the time when the spirit shall leave the body and go to Him. What a blessing then is the Christian faith. How precious the promise, 'Lo I am with you always even to the end of the world.'"

The noble order to which our brother belonged has for a cardinal principle a belief in immortality with these precious promises we can be assured that we shall have the sustaining hand of the Divine Lord in times of deepest distress. So then we may regard the coming of the end as "One who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

After a fervent prayer by the speaker, Mrs. Hartman most sweetly sang the hymn entitled "Heavenly Home of Somewhere" after which the remains were born to Diamond Grove cemetery by St. Knights D. C. Diltz, J. G. Strawn, L. H. Clappitt, P. V. Coover, John R. Phillips and P. H. Griggs. The many beautiful flowers were cared for by Lee Stice, Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson, Mrs. D. C. Diltz and Mrs. Thomas Heaton.

Don't Experiment with Catarrh; It Often Leads to Dread Consumption

You Will Never Be Cured by Local Treatment with Sprays and Douches

Catarrh is a condition of the blood and can not be cured by local applications of sprays and douches; this has been proven by the thousands who have vainly resorted to this method of treatment.

Catarrh should not be neglected or experimented with. The wrong treatment is valuable time lost, during which the disease is getting a firmer hold upon its victim, and making it more difficult for even the proper treatment to accomplish results.

Though catarrh makes its first appearance in the nostrils, throat and air passages, the disease becomes more and more aggravated and finally reaches down into the lungs, and everyone recognizes the alarming condition that results when the lungs are affected. Thus catarrh may be the forerunner of that most dreaded and hopeless of all diseases, consumption.

No local treatment affords permanent relief. Experience has taught that S. S. S. is the one remedy which attacks the disease at its source, the blood, and produces satisfactory results in even the worst cases. Catarrh sufferers are urged to give S. S. S. a thorough trial. It is sold by all druggists. You are invited to write to the Medical Department for expert advice as to how to treat your own case. Address Swift Specific Co., 436 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

pointment of a successor because in justice to you I must. "I also for the same reason accept your resignation as director-general of railroads to take effect, as you suggest, on the first of January next, or when your successor is appointed. The whole world admires, I am sure, as I do, the skill and executive capacity with which you handled the great and complex problem of the unified administration of railroads under the stress of war uses, and will regret, as I do, to see you leave that post just as the crest of its difficulty is passed.

"For the distinguished, disinterested, and altogether admirable service you have rendered the country in both posts and especially for the way in which you have guided the treasury thru all the perplexities and problems of transitional financial conditions and of the financing of a war which has been without precedent alike in kind and in scope, I thank you with a sense of gratitude that comes from the very bottom of my heart.

"Gratefully and affectionately yours,
"WOODROW WILSON."

No Statement As To Successor

It is entirely probable the president may fill separately the offices of secretary of the treasury and director-general of railroads. There was nothing official tonight on which to base a statement of who might be under consideration for secretary of the treasury. On previous occasions when a successor to Mr. McAdoo was discussed John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency, and W. P. G. Harding, governor of the federal reserve board have most generally been mentioned. Paul Warburg, formerly a member of the reserve board, and a prominent New York banker, and Russell C. Leffingwell, assistant secretary of the treasury also are reckoned among the possibilities.

President Wilson is not required to choose the new director-general of railroads from among the cabinet members and it is possible the place may go to someone associated with Mr. McAdoo in the railroad administration. If the place should go to some member of the cabinet, Secretary Baker of the war department, Postmaster General Burleson and Secretary Lane of the interior department, are likely to be considered.

Walker D. Hines, assistant director general of railroads, formerly a New York lawyer and chairman of the board of the Santa Fe has been intimately connected with the development of government operation and is among those discussed in Washington tonight as a possible successor to Mr. McAdoo as director-general.

Announcement Made to Newspapermen
Mr. McAdoo made the announcement of his retirement at one of his weekly conferences with newspapermen. The men for an hour had been discussing with him questions concerning future policies of the treasury and railroad administration and were to arise to leave when Mr. McAdoo, seated at his desk, remarked casually:

"Now, gentlemen, I have just one other little thing to say which may be of interest. I am retiring from public life."

"Copies of the correspondence with the president," he continued, "will explain the reason why I have been compelled to take this action and there isn't any other reason."

Just a few minutes before the press conference, Mr. McAdoo had called in his treasury advisers and broken the news to them. Utmost surprise was expressed by his co-workers. There had been only one rumor recently of the possibility of Mr. McAdoo's resignation and that was to the effect that he might be appointed secretary of war while Secretary Baker went to Europe as the president's emissary. That report was specifically denied at the time and it was said that Mr. McAdoo had no immediate intention of quitting either as secretary of the treasury or as director-general of the railroads.

Mr. McAdoo receives $12,500 a year as secretary of the treasury, the uniform salary of cabinet members and nothing as director-general of railroads. His family expenses are known to have been heavy in the last few years, although since the war he has taken almost no part in the little capital society that remained. Repeatedly the secretary has referred to small salaries of government officials, though he did not refer to his own case. In fixing the salaries of his assistants in the railroad administration he allowed heads of divisions $25,000 a year and even minor assistants received $12,000 or $15,000.

Secretary McAdoo is the fourth member of the cabinet to resign. William Jennings Bryan, the president's secretary of state at the beginning of his administration was the first and Lindley M. Garrison, secretary of war, was the second; James C. McReynolds, attorney general, resigned to take an appointment to the supreme court. Aside from these three changes the president's cabinet stands the same as it did six years ago.

SURRENDER OF MIGHTY HUN FLEET DESCRIBED

Eyes straining through the murky haze finally were rewarded. Off the starboard bow the Cardiff, trailing an observation kite balloon came steaming in. Close behind her came the first of the German ships, the great battle cruiser, Seydlitz, which was flying the flag of Commodore Tölgert. After her came four others of the same type, the Derfflinger, Von Der Tann, Hindenburg and Moltke. The fleet moved along three cable lengths apart.

Dreadnaughts First
Immediately following them were nine dreadnaughts, the Friedrich Der Grosse, the flag ship of Rear Admiral Von Reuter; the Koenig Albert, Kaiser, Kronprinz, Wilhelm, Kaiserin, Bayern, Margrat, Prinz Regent, Luitpold and the Grosser Kurfuerst. Three miles astern of the battle ships came seven light cruisers, the Karlsruhe, bearing the ensign of Commodore Harder; the Frankfort, Emden, Burnberg, Brummer, Coln and Bremen.

Then came another gap of three miles and German destroyers appeared steaming in five columns abreast with ten destroyers to a column.

Six miles separated the allied columns and squarely between them the Cardiff brought her charges, all steaming at the stipulated speed of 10 knots. As ordered, their guns were in regular fore and aft positions and as far as powerful glasses could determine, there was no sign to provoke suspicion. Until all the major ships had been swallowed up in the enveloping columns the latter never for a moment relaxed their alert watch. Over the Germans circled a British dirigible, which acted as eyes for the allied ships, which although the fog had lifted, were still too distant for accurate observation.

Quickly Reform Lines
When the leading German ship had reached the western end of the flanking columns, the allied ships put about in squadrons. Quickly reforming their lines, they proceeded to escort the enemy into the Firth of Forth. By noon the last wisp of fog had dispersed and a splendid view of the vast array of war craft could be obtained. Holding steadily to its course, the great fleet reached May Island at two o'clock. The captive Germans were escorted to anchorages assigned to them and British ships from the southern column closed in as guards. The northern column steamed on to the regular anchorages higher up the Firth.

Inspection parties from the grand fleet boarded the Germans to make sure that all conditions of the armistice were observed. The enemy vessels will be interned in Scapa Flow. Part of the crews will remain for maintenance work and the remainder will be returned to Germany soon. Whether American ships have a further part to play in connection with this internment and guarding the high seas is a question which is being discussed by officers and men of the United States squadron.

King George Visits U. S.

Flagship.
King George's visit to the American flagship New York yesterday was a notable occasion thruout. British destroyers were steaming out of the harbor to take advanced positions to act as a screen for the grand fleet today and the portentousness of their mission gave a note of solemnity to the gala scene of the New York. As soon as the royal party stepped aboard the royal ensign was hoisted to the masthead. This was the first time since the United States entered the war that any ceremonial punctilions has been observed. King George was touched by the sight of his standard snapping in the breeze above the Stars and Stripes.

King George, the Prince of Wales, Admiral Beatty and other members of the visiting party were received by Admirals Rodman and Sims and other officers of the fleet. They made a quick tour back between long lines of marines standing stiffly at attention and sailors manning the rails. The party then went below to the admiral's cabin where they waited for half an hour. The king appeared to have a fine time. Formalities were abandoned. Admirals Beatty, Sims and Rodman were in high spirits and their good natured bantering kept the whole party laughing. It was an interesting manifestation of the extremely cordial and intimate relations existing between Great Britain and America. During his call, King George voiced the brotherly feelings of the two navies. With a suggestion that arrangements might well be made for joint maneuvers every year by the American and British fleets. His proposal was quickly and heartily seconded by the American officers.

As the king entered the royal barge, the order came from the officer on the bridge to the sailors and marines "three cheers for the King of England." Cheers were given with such a will that they brought an answering cheer from the men on the distant ships of the American squadron.

DAUGHTER OF GENERAL

LEE DEAD
Richmond, Va., Nov. 22.—Miss Mary Custis Lee, daughter of General Robert E. Lee, died today after a brief illness at Virginia Hot Springs. The body probably will be placed beside that of her father in the vault at Washington and Lee university of Lexington.

Timely Advice

Not at all because I want to appear to "give advice," but because knowing market conditions as I do and the difficulty experienced in getting some things and the impossibility of getting others, it's the best possible advice—

SHOP EARLY.

That saying is so old now that it's become standardized. But wouldn't you rather heed it, and be satisfied, than to wait and be disappointed? I believe so.

I have a splendid line of everything needed for the boy and man, from stockings to sweaters, that it will afford we pleasure to show you. And all moderately priced though of best quality.

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE AT BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 22.—Fire which threatened to wreck the entire canton water front district here broke out today at the oil loading docks of the Standard Oil company, destroying the company's piers, badly damaging the oil tanker F. C. Barlow, loaded with 75,000 barrels of gasoline, and destroyed three pile driving machines.

The total loss, it is estimated, will reach $1,000,000. The blaze started from sparks from one of the pile drivers which ignited surface oil in the water alongside of the tanker. The flames quickly traveled to an old dock of the Standard Oil company and spread to a warehouse and the tanker. Fifty men at work on the deck escaped as four barges loaded with lead casks of gasoline burst into flames.

There were numerous explosions of casks of gasoline but the fire on the tanker was controlled before it reached the holds of the vessel.

DON'T NEGLECT

Those Rheumatic Pains
You know that rheumatism, once it becomes established, requires prolonged treatment—it means much misery and torture during that time. The joints become stiffened and swollen—you cannot move without pain—the pain is incessant and sleep is denied you.

When the joints show a tendency to stiffen or become the least painful then is the time to remember Nyal's.

RHEUMATISM REMEDY
Promptness of treatment counts much toward eliminating the disease—the longer you neglect it the more painful and lingering it becomes.

Nyal's Rheumatic Remedy removes the poison from the system in the shortest time possible—its continued use will result in a permanent cure.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Never before in history has there been as good a time as at the present to buy land as an investment. With the war over, business will get on a solid basis. The United States will have to replenish the devastated countries, which is going to take a long time; we have the ships to do our exporting, we have the materials, we have the provisions and the men to put it there. Prices on farm products are bound to be high and land will be higher. That land is a safe investment is proven by large capitalists making inquiries, the last few days, with the prospect of buying large tracts of land. I have farms of all sizes and kinds. Come and see what I have to offer. Also, city property of all kinds, and money to loan.

MISS OLMSTED TELLS OF WAR RIDDEN EUROPE

These for the most part were jokes and the French officers were always able to out talk them.

In Lapland the natives, who much resemble the Esquimaux, use reindeers for transportation. They are an innocent and curious people and were unable to understand the ways of the Americans.

Natives Wear Costly Furs

The thing that impressed the women of the party was the fact that the mayors of the villages are the only ones allowed to wear woollen clothing. The poor people dress in ermine. It was no uncommon sight to see a little baby dressed in an ermine suit similar to American rompers and worth many dollars. The most costly furs are worn by all the population. One of the physicians in the party traded a cigar for a fine reindeer skin. The women also traded many personal belongings for furs and brought home articles worth many dollars here and some would be almost impossible to get.

Wants to Return to Work.

Despite her experiences in Roumania and subsequent difficulty in getting away, Miss Olmsted wants to return. She believes there is great opportunity for service in that country. While she has made no definite plans she probably will in the near future arrange to go to Roumania under much more favorable conditions and with supplies and other materials with which to work.

Miss Olmsted came here expecting to talk on child welfare work. She is engaged in that work and now has headquarters in Chicago. The Department of Labor has set aside a large sum of money with which to make practical experiments in child welfare work and make a definite report.

It is the plan to select a number of counties and Miss Olmsted because of the interest always shown in such matters, has selected Morgan county as one of these counties. The experiment will be of great value to the county from every viewpoint. Because of the epidemic of influenza and the quarantine restrictions it may be impossible for her to take up this work at this time. If she does not she will return at a later date and carry the work thru. She will be the guest of Mrs. Adams for several days and will no doubt enjoy being with the many friends she made while here.

LOWDEN PAYS TRIBUTE TO AMERICAN SOLDIERS

Sounds Note of Warning Against the Bolshevism — Says "We Must Guard Against Tyranny."

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 22.—Nearly 10,000 persons heard and applauded Governor Frank O. Lowden tonight when he paid tribute to the American soldiers, particularly those from Illinois, and sounded a note of warning against Bolshevism in the "victory" celebration of the Cook County Auxiliary of the State Council of Defense at the Coliseum.

"When this war commenced," said the governor, "we asked ourselves, will the sons of Illinois in this great crisis measure up to the heroic stature of our mighty dead? We asked ourselves if it could be true that the young men of today had not the fibre of our fathers and their fathers before them. But, my friends, today Chateau Thierry, the second battle of the Marne, St. Mihiel and a score of other bloody battlefields testify that the arm of the boys of today is as strong in a righteous cause as ever were the arms of those who have gone before."

Governor Lowden said that the framers of the national constitution guarded against tyranny and that "we must guard against tyranny" and continued:

"Tyranny to them was just as obnoxious whether it was practiced by a Bolshevist government somewhere or by a crowned head somewhere. I want to tell you my friends that we are safe. We can look with steadfast eye into the future only as long as we hold to these fundamental doctrines of justice, liberty and righteousness cannot be overruled by any power, whether the power of any armed despot or the power of an armed mob."

Samuel Insull, chairman of the state council of defense presided. He said Illinois had furnished 280,029 men to the national service up to July 1, last. Of the total 251,688 went to the army; 2,463 to the navy, and 3,678 to the marines.

HUN PROPAGANDISTS ACTIVE IN MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—German propagandists are still active in Mexico City and other parts of Mexico, official advisers received today stated.

German agents recently have caused to be printed in Mexican papers articles intended beyond question in the opinion of officials here to create distrust of the United States in Mexico. One of these articles as received here declares that humiliating demands are to be made by the United States on President Carranza and adds Carranza boldly will reject these demands and move his capital to a safer place. Another article tells of serious civil disturbances in England and France.

More recently, it is said an article emanating from the same source intimated that the Germans had rejected the armistice and that the German army and navy were victorious in battles against the allies.

U. W. W. NOTES

The report of the United War Work campaign for the district as sent in by Mr. Findley showed total of $176,000. This is about $2,000 more than that indicated in the last previous report. In Cass county Virginia and Ashland both have subscriptions which have passed the quota and the 50 per cent increase asked. However, in Beardstown this good record has not been equalled and subscriptions up to yesterday were nearly $3,000 below the quota. Work is to continue there and the campaign managers hope to have the subscriptions at least up to the quota mark.

SWIFT & CO. MAKE REPLY TO CHARGES

Declare Seemingly Big Profits Will Disappear When Prices Decline.

Just about a week before the signing of the armistice came Swift & Co. made public at Boston the statement that the firm had prepared a reply to the accusations of the federal trade commission filed with a senate subcommittee on Sept. 28. In this reply the firm of packers set forth that a large part of their war earnings were expected to disappear when prices began to decline. The statement follows:

Boston—Swift & Co. have prepared a reply to the accusations of the Federal Trade Commission filed with a Senate subcommittee on Sept. 28.

The company states that in its whole consideration of profits, the Federal Trade Commission fails to realize that the profits reported by the packers are not profits that have actually appeared in the form of cash, but are largely book profits tied up in inventory which will undoubtedly disappear in large measure when prices begin to go down. Even if the war lasts five years longer and the drop in prices does not come until then, the loss will be just as real.

For the meat and by-products departments, which are subject to the 9% limitation of profits, the statement continues, the rate of turnover is approximately 3-4 times a year. "It must be remembered that part of the steer consists of by-products which move slowly, that some of the beef is cured and salted, and large portion of pork products consists of cured products which move very slowly and that even in the sale of strictly fresh meat it takes some time for the money to return to the company's coffers after the actual sale is made.

"The commission says that the packers' profit of one-quarter of a cent per pound for beef amounts to $5 a ton as compared to only 25 cents per ton profit on coal. As a matter of fact an average quality ton of beef is worth at wholesale at present about $400, whereas a ton of anthracite coal at tidewater is worth only about $7. Compare a $5 profit on a $400 sale with a 25 cent profit on a $7 sale. The beef profit is only about 1 1/4%, coal profit over 3 1/4%.

"In 1917 Swift & Co., filled over 30,000,000 orders of all products with a total of about 200,000,000 items, a large part of which had to be weighed and wrapped separately, while coal is delivered in carlots or ton lots."

Answering the charge that packers have agreed among themselves upon division of livestock receipts, company gives the maximum and minimum weekly percentages of cattle purchases made during the year Sept. 1, 1917, to Sept. 1, 1918, as follows:

| | Maxi | Mini | % Dif. |
|---------------|------|------|--------|
| Chicago | 43.1 | 32.7 | 13.2 |
| Kansas City | 31.4 | 18.5 | 12.9 |

MAKING PLANS FOR THANKSGIVING BASKETS

Public Asked to Bring Food Donations to Y. M. C. A. Building Monday or Tuesday—Children and Grown-Ups Should Aid.

Since peace has brought added reasons for thanksgiving this year the day promises to be notable in many ways. It has long been a custom in Jacksonville to make such generous provision that no one is without the necessary food on this important holiday. In the past the food donations from parents and children have usually been collected thru the schools. Because of the local health conditions and the closing of the schools, some other plan must be followed this year and so to meet this contingency a receiving station has been established at the Y. M. C. A. There it is requested that all donations be left Monday or Tuesday. Children and grown-ups are both urged to have part this year in this needful service, and those who send food for these Thanksgiving baskets will certainly be well repaid by the knowledge of the pleasure they have given, and the good they have done.

Supt. Dorsey of the Social Service league will arrange the baskets and personally attend to their distribution. A number of committees will assist in the work, the purpose being to see to it that every person in Jacksonville is provided with a Thanksgiving dinner. While times are generally prosperous, there are still a great many people who are dependent and it will take a considerable quantity of food stuffs to supply the needs of all. This official appeal is sent out from the office of the superintendent of schools so there may be a definite statement of the plan for this year given to the school boys and girls as well as to their parents and citizens generally.

Bureau of Animal Industry, with headquarters at Springfield, Illinois, spent Wednesday and Thursday inspecting some sick hogs reported in two herds in Morgan county. Dr. Higgins pronounced the disease hemorrhagic septicemia. This disease is controlled by a vaccine in a somewhat similar way to hog cholera. In some localities this disease has caused considerable loss to hog raisers.

BOARD EXPECTS TO PROCEED WITH PLANS

Early Order Likely Permitting Use of Materials for Construction of High School Building.

J. P. Lippincott as president of the board of education yesterday received a letter from the Non-War Construction board of the State Council of Defense in Chicago stating that the application of the Jacksonville board of education for authority to erect a high school building had been sent on to Washington for approval. The letter said that recent orders from Washington indicated that the rules with reference to such construction work were being considerably relaxed.

Newspaper dispatches yesterday indicated that all the restrictions which would interfere with the proposed high school building had been canceled and Mr. Lippincott is of the opinion that the board can now proceed as rapidly as it desires. Some time ago the board entered into a contract with Joseph R. Royer of Urbana as architect and his preliminary plan has been approved. The architect will now proceed to work out further plan and specification details and after the formal adoption of the same by the board, bids for construction will be asked. The board has not yet determined whether it will be advisable to ask for bids this winter or to wait until early spring and note the changes, if any, in the prices of building materials.

CORP. WEBER RETURNS TO CAMP TAYLOR

Corporal Myers Weber returned yesterday to Camp Taylor, Ky., after a five days' furlough spent at his home in Jacksonville. As already stated, Corporal Weber had qualified for entrance to an officers' training school just a few days before the signing of the armistice. While he is of course has some regret that he was not permitted to go on with that special work, he nevertheless rejoices with other Americans that the end of the war came in such a fortunate way for this country.

Army life has evidently agreed with this Jacksonville soldier as he has put on 20 pounds in weight since entering the service, and is in fine physical condition and health. He is in the infantry department of the army and his work in recent months has been in the drilling of new men as they have arrived at the cantonments. Corporal Weber said yesterday that the young men inducted into the service as a rule showed such adaptability and earnestness that what could be accomplished in four or five weeks of rigorous training was really remarkable.

TWO TRAINS LESS ON WABASH SOON

New Card Will Go Into Effect Sunday—Nearly All Trains Changed.

The new Wabash time card which will go into effect tomorrow annuls two passenger trains that now pass thru the city. These trains are No. 53, which arrives from Springfield at 9:35 a. m. and goes west, and No. 52 which arrives from Bluffs at 5:20 p. m. and proceeds to Springfield. These trains have been convenient for shoppers coming into Jacksonville from Arnold, Orleans and Alexander and will also be missed in Jacksonville-Springfield travel. Most time cards are not kept long in effect and there is a possibility that these trains may be restored, especially if protests are long enough and loud enough.

Changes in time are noted as follows:

No. 3, which now arrives from the east at 7:15 a. m. is changed to 8:10 a. m.

No. 9 from the east will arrive at 12:45 p. m., instead of 1:10 p. m.

No. 4 from the west will arrive at 8:10 a. m. instead of 8:30 a. m.

No. 12 from the west will arrive at 9 p. m. instead of 9:45 p. m.

No. 28 from the west will arrive at 2:28 a. m. instead of 2 a. m.

The only train with time unchanged is No. 15 from the east, which will reach Jacksonville at 5:20 p. m. as it does under the present card.

MORGAN COUNTY IS HARD TO BEAT

A worthy, hard working man of this county had saved a few dollars by hard work and was induced to try his fortune in Texas. As usual he paid a part down and gave his note for the rest and after trying hard he gave up and came back. His is an experience of many who have tried new countries. It will not be claimed that all are poor but the experience of many has been anything but favorable. In another part of the county there was quite an exodus to North Dakota and a good portion of those persons have returned to their first love. There are no sudden fortunes to be made here but pretty well on what he may depend and with anything like wise management and freedom from unusual calamity a man will succeed well in Morgan county and have its great advantages for raising a family.

DROWNED ON THE ONTRANTO

The St. Louis Republic prints an additional list of men who lost their lives by the sinking of the "Ontranto" off the Irish Coast, Oct. 6th. Among the names is that of Sergt. James R. Powell of Jacksonville, Ill. No one seen by the writer knew the officer who he was doubtless duly registered in the list of passengers.

EXEMPTION BOARD NEWS

Charles E. Bradley, who was listed as delinquent because he failed to return a questionnaire, has had his record cleared. There was an error at the time of his registration. The age of Bradley was given as thirty three instead of forty three. Had he been correctly listed he would not have received a questionnaire, so when the matter was explained he was not required to file one.

Lester Henderson of this county who was originally classified by the district board in class 3-J, was recently re-classified and put in class 1. This case has been pending for a number of months.

Herman W. Chappelk a class 1917 registrant, who was originally reported as delinquent, was later examined by the board and found physically disqualified. He was, however, inducted into the service but has now been discharged at Brooklyn, N. Y., on account of physical disqualification.

Arthur Abbey was reported some months ago to the adjutant general as an entrainment deserter. More recently he applied to the local board at Ft. Worth, Texas, and was inducted into the service there and sent to Camp Travis.

Altho no more questionnaires are to be sent out, there is no lack of work in the local board office. Several reports have been asked by the adjutant general and their compilation will require a good deal of time. In addition to reports, a list is now being prepared for the adjutant general giving the names of all men inducted into the service by the Morgan county local board, together with the name of the nearest relative in each case. This list is understood to be for the use of the department in the matter of claims and allotments.

The end of the war does not bring the end to soldier insurance and therefore there is a great deal of work necessary in the department of allotments. It is provided in the insurance plan that during the period of the war and for five years thereafter unless sooner converted the insurance is to be term insurance for successive terms of one year each. During the five year period after the termination of the war the insured has the right to convert this term insurance into many of the usual forms of insurance at the net premium for such forms of insurance. No medical examination is to be required as a condition of converting the insurance. Unless the privilege of conversion is exercised the insurance cannot be continued after the expiration of the five year period. To carry out the privilege of conversion ordinary life insurance, 20-payment life insurance, endowment maturing at age 62 and other of the usual forms of insurance will be provided.

Since the government rates for insurance are expected to be considerably less than those charged by the insurance companies, it is quite probable that a very large number of men who have been in the service will elect to keep their insurance in force.

As indicated, one of the reports which is being filled out includes a great many statistics and much information about the business of the board. The requirement is made to list all men available for general service, for limited service, those listed in the re-mediable class and in other classifications which have obtained during the period of general registration. Just the purpose of a report of this kind is not known but it seems that the department wishes to keep on file the valuable information secured thru local board operation as to the available man-power of the country.
